

The CROW Workshop Series is designed to offer free professional development opportunities to teacher-scholars. These hands-on workshops will be held on Zoom, making them accessible to people across the globe.

Workshop 03 Fellowship and Grant Writing for PhD Students & Early Career Scholars Part I: Before You Start “Writing”

In this workshop, we will discuss why you should apply to grants and fellowships (and the difference between these). We will also address how to find grants and fellowships, as well as how to prepare for applying.

Presenters:

Aleksandra Swatek, PhD
Hadi Riad Banat, PhD
Adriana Picoral, PhD
Ashley J Velázquez, PhD

When? March 13, 9am to 10:30am (PST)

How to register: <https://bit.ly/crow-workshop-03>

We welcome to this workshop early career scholars from around the world who conduct research on writing practices and processes (e.g., university or K-12 writing; workplace writing; discipline-specific writing).
